JETPAK Q4, 2021

CEO comments

Jetpak reached a fourth quarter total revenue of 275 319 TSEK, equal to a currency adjusted organic growth of 8,5 %. The operating profit and adjusted EBITA for the period amounted to 31 698 TSEK, corresponding to an operating margin of 11,5 %. This quarter's profit was affected by provisions for the long-term incentive program amounting to 2 171 TSEK, thus affecting the quarter's operating profit by 0,8 percentage points.

The full year 2021 reached a record revenue level, as we for the first time reached a revenue above 1 billion, with a total of 1 032 615 TSEK. Also profit-wise 2021 turned out to be a record year as we reached an operating profit above 100 million, with 102 751 TSEK.

The Express Air segment grew by 15,4 %, driven by logistic accounts and slightly improved service offering. Continued supply chain disruptions provided some volume and demand fluctuations within the Air segment during the quarter. Semiconductor supply shortage continued to impact some industries negatively, but increased demand from logistic customers offset the negative impact from global supply chain disruptions.

The gross margin for the Express Air segment amounted to 40,5 %, which was 2,9 percentage points lower than last year, driven by changes in customer and product mix.

Our market position within the Air segment remained stable during the quarter, even though we experienced a continued changed price competition for systemized services, which we successfully handled with our flexibility and high quality. We maintained a continued strong position for our Air ad-hoc services.

The Express Road segment grew during the quarter by 6,1 %, as the segment continued to benefit from increasing revenue from existing large distribution accounts focusing on the B2B segment, as well as B2C home deliveries. Growth within this segment was satisfactory considering that last year's comparable figure was positively impacted by the acquisition of 3D Logistik.

The gross margin for the Express Road segment increased by 1,9 percentage points up to 19,9 %, thanks to improved product mix.

The price competition within the Road segment continued, especially on courier logistic services - driven by increasing e-commerce B2C volumes. Nevertheless, we managed to maintain our current market position thanks to our niche focus and high delivery quality.

Vaccine and test distribution continued to generate solid revenues and contribution during the quarter. Continued vaccine programs in the Nordics are currently not decided, something which potentially can lower this activity for the coming quarters.

During the quarter, we noticed increased fuel costs, which we anticipate will continue into 2022. Increasing demands for CO2 reduction is expected to lead a higher consumption of environmentally friendly HVO diesel, generating higher cost, which will be compensated by introduction of fuel and sustainability surcharge within our Road segment.

Despite an increased inflationary pressure during the quarter, we maintained a tight cost control. The cost ratio developed satisfactory, despite provisions to the incentive program and last year's temporarily short-term covid-19 layoff effects. We constantly work with supplier negotiations with the objective to strengthen our competitiveness and enabling further growth for both segments.

Kenneth Marx, CEO

During the fourth quarter Jetpak conducted an employee survey addressing motivation and leadership index. Despite covid-19, business and organizational disruption ratings were above expectations and industry average.

Customer satisfaction remained on a stable high level during the year, despite supply chain disruption and capacity challenges.

Sustainability work within the framework of the UN's Global Compact Program is an integrated part of our daily work and during 2021 we have intensified our initiatives within CSR/ESG, including to move Jetpak towards a CO2 neutral future.

HVO fuel is now gradually being introduced among our franchisees and electric vehicle distribution is evaluated together with some of our largest customers. Increased costs and limited range remain an issue, which must be resolved, both drive-plan wise and commercially. Drones are also being evaluated as a part of our future distribution and linehaul capacity, but range and capacity is currently limited and necessary air authority approvals are pending.

Acquisitions have during recent years added to our growth and provided synergies. Especially our acquisition in Europe showed strong development during 2021. Our most recent acquisition, CTS Express in Denmark, is expected to add further value during the coming year, as it is an important part of our strategy of strengthening our presence within the Danish air business.

We will be striving for further accelerated growth during coming years. We will revisit our M&A strategy and criteria - in addition to securing available funding for such a growth path. A successful outcome here will further strengthen our market position and provide synergies, which in turn will improve value creation and increase Jetpak's market cap.

Our expectations for coming quarters are affected by fluctuations in the available air capacity. Current situation is expected to continue into the start of 2022, which potentially will have a negative impact on our air-based services. We however expect this to be counterbalanced by an increasing customer demand within both our Air and Road segments – which can support a continued growth during coming quarters.

We are continuously striving for increasing our organic growth and profitability through our prioritized strategic focus areas, which i.e. includes accelerated sales activities as well as enhanced price management and optimized margins. Further cost efficiency will be pursued within the Air and Road segment, as we will be revisiting our business model and organizational setup.

Based on current market conditions and defined initiatives we expect a continued strong organic growth, but continued air capacity volatility remains a risk and a normalization is still not foreseeable within the coming quarters.

Our performance for the quarter was in line with our expectations and we reconfirm our longterm financial targets, which will be balanced with our ambition of continuously increasing our operating profit in absolute terms.

Based on our ambition of an M&A accelerated growth, the company's Board of Directors do not propose any dividend to the Annual General Meeting in June 2022.

Kenneth Marx, Chief Executive Officer

Fourth quarter

1 October 2021 - 31 December 2021

Significant events during the quarter

The impact of the covid-19 pandemic continued during this quarter, mainly in the form of disruptions and limitations in the air transport infrastructure used by Jetpak, and during the end of the quarter also in the form of increased sickness rates from the omicron variant of the covid-19 virus.

Management has therefore continued to continuously evaluate any financial and operational impact and has continuously taken measures with the aim of minimizing risk and damage from direct and indirect effects caused by this pandemic.

The direct financial support that Jetpak has received decided and reconciled by the authorities has been reported in the form of reduced personnel costs and has during the year reduced Jetpak's personnel costs by 783 (5 319) TSEK, of which 0 (682) TSEK has affected the current quarter.

During the quarter, Jetpak received information that "Afa Insurance" had decided on a oneoff repayment of absorbed surplus within the collectively agreed health insurance "AGS". As a result of this, Jetpak received an increased other income, as well as a positive effect on operating profit, during the fourth quarter amounting to 712 TSEK.

On 28 December, Jetpak announced that it had acquired the Danish express logistics company CTS Express Holding APS, for initially approximately 13,9 MSEK on a cash and debt-free basis. In addition, an additional purchase price of a maximum of 6,0 MDKK, corresponding to approximately 8,34 MSEK, may be paid. Access will take place from January 2022.

Operating Revenue

The consolidated total revenue for the quarter amounted to 275 319 (251 276) TSEK, which was an increase by 24 043 TSEK compared with the same period previous year. This corresponded to total revenue growth of 9,6 %.

The group was during the quarter affected by positive foreign currency effects, with a net total of 3 469 (-9 492) TSEK, thanks to a strengthened Norwegian krone - compared with last year's corresponding quarter and to the group's Swedish reporting currency.

The group's underlying organic growth for the quarter amounted to 8,5 %, adjusted for the foreign exchange tail wind.

It is worthwhile noticing that the individual Jetpak countries have a high degree of "natural currency hedging" since most of each country's revenue to a large degree is matched by operating costs in the same currency.

The Express Air segment had a reported revenue of 128 227 (111 161) TSEK, corresponding to an increase by 15,4 % (-11,1 %).

After adjustment for foreign currency effects, the underlying organic revenue for the segment amounted to 13,8 %.

The gross margin for the quarter increased to 31,3 % (30,9 %), corresponding to a gross profit amounting to 86 078 (77 734) TSEK. The increase of the gross profit amounted to 10,7 %. The change in gross margin was due to a changed product mix within the segments.

Other external costs, not re-allocated to direct costs, amounted to -6 810 (-5 856) TSEK. The difference between the years is mainly due to that last year's costs levels were low due to specific pandemic related actions and activities.

Personnel costs, not allocated to direct costs, amounted to -38 452 (-34 780) TSEK.

The total revenue increased by:

9,6 %

Jetpak has one outstanding warrant program that runs until June 2022, which thereafter may be converted to new shares and thereby contribute to the dilution of the share capital. See Jetpak's website, https://jetpakgroup.com/en/investors/the-stock/ for further information on this warrant program, as well as the shareholder structure as per the balance date.

The gross margin amounted to 30,5 % (30,6 %), a similar level versus last year.

Personnel costs amounted to -146 962 (-140 216) TSEK. The item was affected during nine months last year and during the first five months this year by government support measures. The company's net debt in relation to the adjusted EBITDA on a rolling twelve-month basis (R12) amounted to 0,9 (1,6).

Cash Flow

The 2021 cash flow from current operations amounted to 89 854 (84 412) TSEK. The deviation between the years, 5 442 TSEK, was affected net-wise by an increased operating profit. An increased revenue also led to an increase of accounts receivables. The reduction in accounts payables for the year was mainly a result of large payments made during the first quarter of 2021, following negotiated extended payment periods with suppliers for the year 2020 - a pandemic related activity.

Cash flow from investment activities during the period amounted to -24 762 (-47 582) TSEK. Risks and Uncertainty Factors

Exposure and risk management are a natural part of all business activities. A risk is defined as an uncertainty about the occurrence of an event that may affect the company's ability to reach its established goals. Jetpak's risk focus is on identifying, preventing as well as preparing action plans that will enable the company to withstand or limit any damage which risks may cause. Risks may, even if successfully prevented, still have a negative impact on the business. Jetpak has divided the identified risks into the subgroups; market- and operational risks, financial and regulatory risks.

For a more detailed description and review of the company's identified risks, reference is made to the consolidated annual report for the financial year 2020.

Effects from the continued development of the covid-19 pandemic is covered within the framework of the market- and operational risks. Considering the continued degree of uncertainty that surrounds the situation, it will be difficult to predict the full financial impact that this situation may have on the company.

As per the balance sheet date there were no significant pandemic effects on any balance sheet item.

Significant Events after the Balance Sheet Date

The corona pandemic (covid-19) has continued to affect the company also during the beginning of 2022. During the beginning of the first quarter, sick leave increased due to the more contagious omicron variant of the virus. Even though countries in which Jetpak operates now carry out easing of their pandemic-related restrictions, the commercial airlines that Jetpak uses for its operations continue to operate with limited timetables. This, combined with a reduced and fluctuating activity among important customers, means that Jetpak's management continues to intend to closely monitor developments and continuously take the necessary measures to counteract and minimize the direct and indirect effects of covid-19 pandemics on the company.

Jetpak took control of the acquired company CTS Express in January 2022, and synergy work was initiated during the first quarter. In connection with the first quarter report, Jetpak intends to present a preliminary purchase price allocation. CTS Express has consolidated annual sales of approximately 40 MDKK, corresponding to circa 56 MSEK, with an EBITDA result for 2021 of approximately 1,8 MDKK, corresponding to circa 2,5 MSEK.

In connection with the end of 2022, the only then remaining bank loan amounting to SEK 140 000 MSEK expires. During the current and previous quarters, Jetpak has held meetings with financial institutions to ensure Jetpak's continued financing needs beyond 2022. As per the reporting date there are no indications that Jetpak should not be able to succeed with its refinancing plan.

Segment information

Jetpak's revenue is, with reference to IFRS 8 "Operating segments" and since January 1, 2021, divided into the two segments; Express Air and Express Road.

The Express Air segment covers services where the customers' time-limited logistic needs have been solved by air transport solutions.

The segment Express Road is defined by logistic solutions where the customers' logistic needs have been solved by a pure ground solution.

Jetpak's unique customer offering enables a dynamic order process with real time changes to optimize the time as well as the price aspect.

Express Air

The Express Air segment consist of the air-based logistic courier services; "Jetpak Direct", the fastest ad-hoc service door-to-door, "Jetpak Next Day" with overnight delivery door-to-door, "Customer Specific", tailormade air-solutions for more systematic logistic needs plus "Linehaul, from airport to airport.

Express Road

The Express Road segment consists of the ground based logistic courier services; "Courier Express", which is the fastest and fully flexible courier transport service, the more systematic route based logistic flow via "Courier Logistics" and "Depot", short-term storage for important goods.

For a more extensive presentation and description of Jetpak's various services, please see Jetpak group's Annual Report for 2020, and https://jetpak.com/en/about-jetpak/express-deliveries/.
